LOVE SPEAKS: HEARING THE VOICE OF OUR FATHER

I Will Not Leave You

He Carries You on His Feathers

Now let's put a few more scriptures together for you to open your heart to a whole new dimension of the love and pleasure of the Father, so that you can believe that He will lead you every day of your life, just as a father leads his son or daughter in a good way.

First, the amazing remainder of Deuteronomy 32: 10-11,

“He found him in a desert land, and in the howling waste of a wilderness; He encircled him, He cared for him, He guarded him as He would His own eye. Like an eagle that stirs up its nest, that hovers over its young, He spread His wings and caught them, He carried them on His feathers.”

What an awesome word picture that is! We, the Father's children, were sought out, protected, and loved; the Father is here pictured (symbolically speaking) like an eagle taking very personal attention to His own children, and forever protecting them under His own powerful wings.

This word picture reminds me of the book, The Hobbit by J.R.R. Tolkien. In one scene, eagles are summoned to the rescue! Their large bodies carried the heroes to safety.

Later in His dealings with a rebellious generation of Israel, who sadly had forsaken their first love of Father God and began to worship idols, His heart is broken. He reveals through His prophet, Hosea:

“When Israel was a youth I loved him, and out of Egypt I called My Son” (Hosea 11:1).

A commentator writes of this passage, along with verses 2-7,

“God spoke tenderly of his deep love for Israel, comparing it to the love of a Father for a disobedient child. He had “taught Israel how to walk,” that is, revealed His will to them. He “took care of” them and “stooped to feed” them. He had remained faithful though they were faithless.

“Matthew applied Hosea 11:1 to Christ (see Matthew 2:15).

God called both Israel and Jesus His Son (see Exod.4:22-23), and both lived for a while in Egypt. Matthew’s use of this passage shows the beautiful identification of the Son of God with the historical people of God. Both had a unique relationship with the Father.”<sup>1</sup>

The Work Was Finished Before the Cross

Next, consider the amazing story of Jesus the Messiah, God’s son, who was a baby in Egypt. During His life, just before His death, He shared an amazing thought with us.

“I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you” (John 14:18).

Remember my earlier thoughts that the Father provides provision, protection, identity and inheritance?

<sup>1</sup> Harold L. Wilmington, “Wilmington’s Bible Handbook,” Tyndale House Publishers, 1997, pg. 450.

“ I WILL NOT
YOU

as orphans; I will come to you”

(John 14:18).

Now ask yourself this question about orphans:

Does an orphan have any provision?

Does he/she have any protection?

Does he/she even know his/her real name (identity)?

Does he/she have an inheritance, since being left alone with no connection to his/her biological parents?

The answer to all these questions is, of course, No!

When Jesus shared this for the first time in the history of mankind, He was making eternal promises to give His newborn sons and daughters provision, protection, identity and inheritance!

This was one of the great purposes of the Son of God coming to earth!

Before He had even gone to the Cross to pay the eternal penalty of death for the sins of all who would believe in Him, He prayed His final prayer.

Wouldn't you agree that the words of a person's final prayer are very important words?

Words of incredible meaning? And, we have them recorded through John. I think that is fitting, as I picture John, who had a deep and passionate love for His Master, Jesus. He even reclined on His chest and listened to His very heartbeat. He stayed with Him to His last breath at the crucifixion out of his intense love for Him.

Here is something that John records which Jesus prayed to Father in His final prayer,

“Jesus said these things. Then, raising His eyes in prayer, He said:

Father, it's time.

Display the bright splendor of Your Son

So the Son in turn may show Your bright splendor.

*You put him in charge of everything human
So He might give real and eternal life to all in his charge.
And this is the real and eternal life:
That they know You,
The one and only true God,
And Jesus Christ, whom you sent.
I glorified You on earth
By completing down to the last detail
What You assigned me to do.
And now, Father, glorify Me with Your very own splendor,
The very splendor I had in your presence
Before there was a world.” (John 17: 1-5, The Message translation).*

So many wonderful truths! Notice though He shares, “I completed down to the last detail what You assigned me to do.”

Remember this: He had not gone to the Cross yet, died, been resurrected, or glorified at the right hand of the Father!

And He finished His final prayer with these words,

*“Father, I want those You gave me
To be with me, right where I am,
So they can see My glory, the splendor You gave me,
Having loved me
Long before there ever was a world.
Righteous Father, the world has never known You,*

But I have known You, and these disciples know

That You sent me on this mission.

I have made Your very being known to them—

Who You are and what you do—

And continue to make it known,

So that Your love for me

Might be in them

Exactly as I am in them” (John 17:25-26, The Message translation).

Oh, let those eternal truths penetrate your heart!

At the beginning and the ending of His last prayer that is recorded before He goes to His death, He reveals that it is His ongoing mission, throughout all time, to make known who the Father is, what the Father does, and to spread abroad the very love of the Father to all who will receive it.

Resurrection Revelation

Now we move to Easter morning: the resurrection of Christ!

Let me quote here from a sermon preached on an Easter Sunday by John G. Lake, who was a pioneer healing evangelist in the early days of the Pentecostal Movement. He preached this in the early 1920's in the midst of a vast revival,

“On this side of the cross is the victory of His resurrection, the marvel of all victories, the victory over death, by which He took death captive. A living man, Himself, He came forth the Conqueror of death itself, having put all things under His feet. What an ascent into triumph! What a change in His consciousness! What a distinction between the Redeemer and the redeemed! No longer subject to death but triumphing over it. No longer subject to humiliation, but now becoming the exalted One.”<sup>2</sup>

Let’s now visit that amazing Easter morning, perhaps the most amazing morning in all of history, as Mary herself approaches the empty tomb and begins to weep. She is thinking that the body of Jesus has been stolen. The mystery of the resurrection had not yet been revealed.

She mistakes Jesus Himself to be the gardener (a wonderful detail in this story), but when she hears His voice, she recognizes Him, and He then declares these most sacred and empowering words,

“I ascend to MY Father, and YOUR Father, and My God and your God” (John 20:17b, emphasis mine).

You see, God has no grandchildren after all!

Only the redeemed in the Messiah, who are both temporal and eternal recipients of His love, care, and affection, and will be the very ones who bring Him pleasure and joy to all eternity.

Our Father gives us comfort, security, and reassurance.

I would also like to add three more characteristics that every good father gives his kids, and that our Heavenly Father gives us: comfort, security, and reassurance.

You can learn by experience to hear from Him PERSONALLY; each day remember you can approach and dialogue with, “MY (personal) Father.”

So perhaps, just perhaps, the Westminster Shorter Catechism could be re-worded to read something like this,

“The chief end of the Eternal Father is to receive pleasure and joy from His sons and daughters forever,”

or, put another way, if you dare to believe this,

“The chief end of ‘Our Father’ is to glorify man and woman, through His Son Jesus Christ, and enjoy them forever with the presence of the Spirit.”

So now you know at least one of the answers to the “WHY does He love me and desire to speak with me?”

God’s Vision is Filled with His Children

Here’s an anointed quote from Pete Greig, who leads a wonderful world-wide prayer and justice movement, based near London, England, known as 24/7 Prayer. He shares this in his book, The Vision and The Vow.

“St. Irenaeus of Lyons lived just one hundred and fifty years after Jesus, in Gaul (modern day France), and “may just be called the first biblical theologian” having been the first to quote the New Testament unequivocally as scripture.<sup>3</sup>

“In tone, his teaching was earthier than that of his fellow Church Fathers, Origen and Tertullian, and theologically more relational, less transactional, than that of Augustine. I tell you all this because I want you to know that this is a man you can trust.

“And I want you to trust him, because what I am about to convey to you is a revelation that really could revolutionize your understanding of how God sees you.

“In his treatise, Against Heresies, Irenaeus made an observation that, almost two thousand years later, remains simply breathtaking in its implications for our lives. He wrote:

“The glory of God is man fully alive, and the life of man is the vision of God.”<sup>4</sup>

“Stop and think about it for a moment. In fact, start thinking about it for a lifetime...

“While my vision—the Christian vision—is Christ, His vision is...ME!

<sup>4</sup> “Adversus Haereses,” IV.xx6, Irenaeus. This is the popularized version of the more exact translation, “For the glory of God is a living man; and the life of man is the vision of God.”

“His vision is not just some cosmic master plan for benevolent domination, nor is it filled with those legions of angels about His throne. God’s vision is filled with His children, and His greatest delight—His highest joy—is to see us fully alive.”<sup>5</sup>

Signs of Father’s Love

My final example is drawn from salvation-history and anchored in a wonderful move of the Spirit known as The Great Awakening. It happened in both the United Kingdom and the colonies of the early United States in the 1700’s.<sup>6</sup>

“The Father has always poured His love into his children very experientially, through creation. There have been moments throughout salvation-history where multitudes of people have felt the love and power of God in creation.

I have studied for years many revivals, and I’m always drawn to the Great Awakening that happened in Britain and America in the 18th century with men like John and Charles Wesley, George Whitefield and Jonathan Edwards.

One of the more obscure revivalists of that generation was a young Welshman named Howell Harris. His ministry actually pre-dated Whitefield’s and the Wesley’s by a few years, and he was the first to take the gospel out of the churches and into the streets, the marketplaces, and the fields. He truly was the pioneer of Methodist field preaching, and both Wesley and Whitefield patterned their work after his.

He wrote in the year 1739 of his experience after conversion, where he felt the Father’s love reaching out to him personally through His creation, like in times of meditation and also preaching in the fields of Wales.

“I was carried,” he exclaimed, “as on wings through all my trials. I feared nothing, though my life was in danger from the threats of such as loved darkness rather than light; the fire of God did so burn in my soul that I could not rest day or night without doing something for my God and Savior. I WAS DRAWN ONWARDS BY THE LOVE I HAD EXPERIENCED, as a blind man is led, and therefore I could not take notice of anything in my way.

“My food and my drink was praising my God.

“A fire was kindled in my soul and I was clothed with power, and made altogether dead to earthly things.”

It was said of him, “the words flowed scorching hot from the preacher’s heart, and he would go on thus, pouring out old things and new for two, three, or even four hours. Indeed, we have instances of his services continuing without a break for six hours.”<sup>7</sup>

I don’t think that Harris would “fit” very well in most of our modern churches, with their service times planned to the minute and the allotted slots for preaching the word of 22 minutes and not a minute more!

In terms of guidance, he prayed daily for it, and felt the love of the Father and the influence of the Spirit guiding him in his itinerant evangelism.

He wrote, “Oh! Send me where You will; I obey. I am Yours. Let me have the guidance of Your Holy Spirit; let me not go till You command; but when I am called, make me to go; rule me, guide me, assist me; Whatever You do, take not these signs of Your love away.”<sup>8</sup>

Harris “saw and felt the signs” of Father’s love as he walked in the fields and meditated, and as he beheld the sunrise and the sunset, and in so many other outward ways in Creation.

How wonderful to read of a man of God like this praying in such a way for the Father to guide Him, and to let the “signs” of His love lead him in his evangelism!

You might remember my own personal testimony as shared in the Introduction, of that very first morning of awakening to the sounds of the wind and the birds as I walked to class after my evening experience of committing my whole heart and life to Jesus Christ. I can totally understand the love of Our Father that Howell Harris experienced, as I too experienced it in my early days of walking with Christ, and have experienced it every day, every since.

In Conclusion

Jesus said, "Pray then, in this way: Our Father" (Matthew 6:9).

What wonderful words these are!

He is Father of all Creation.

He is known to us through Revelation as "Him who is and who was and who is to come" with grace and peace flowing from His Throne, through the Holy Spirit and through Jesus His Son, to all who believe (see Revelation 1: 4-5).

You are His very own eternal possession.

And He has his own voice.

EXPECT that God, as your Father, will speak to you DIRECTLY.

"The LORD your God goes before you on your way, to seek out a place for you to encamp (an example of how He is protecting His children), in fire by night and cloud by day (an example of His provision), to show you the way in which you should go" (Deuteronomy 1:33).

"For the LORD's portion is His people; Jacob is the allotment of His inheritance" (Deuteronomy 32:9).

He knows your heartbeat and longs to hear the sound of your voice.

You are His very own eternal possession.

You were created to glorify Him, but also to bring Him pleasure.

“He found him in a desert land, and in the howling waste of a wilderness; He encircled him, He cared for him, He guarded him as He would His own eye. Like an eagle that stirs up its nest, that hovers over its young, He spread His wings and caught them, He carried them on His feathers”

(Deuteronomy 32:10-11).

We, the Father’s children, were sought out, protected, and loved; the Father is here pictured like an eagle taking very personal attention to His own children, and forever protecting them under His own powerful wings.

And remember the last words of Jesus (before He went to the Cross for you):

“Righteous Father, the world has never known you,

But I have known you, and these disciples know

That you sent me on this mission.

I have made your very being known to them—

Who you are and what you do—

And continue to make it known,

So that your love for me

Might be in them

Exactly as I am in them” (John 17:25-26, The Message translation).

Thus, learn every day to listen for the voice of “Our Father!”

For 2,000 years there has been a strong emphasis in salvation-history on Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit.

Today (and this concept may seem just a little revolutionary) the emphasis is shifting again.

Back to the Father.

“The chief end of the Eternal Father is to receive pleasure and joy from His sons and daughters forever,”

or, put another way, if you dare to believe this,

“The chief end of “Our Father” is to glorify man and woman, through His Son Jesus Christ, and enjoy them forever with the presence of the Spirit.”
Amen.

A new journey lies ahead, hand in hand with your Heavenly Father. Abba is waiting. Dare to approach Him daily. He is my Father, and YOUR Father.

Listen to Him directly.

Take His hand and start the adventure, for Love Speaks!

Soli Deo Gloria, Amen.

Epilogue

“And as to “THE HOW?”

This ebook, as a stand-alone writing apart from my more extensive teaching book and documentary film series called, “Love Speaks” does not focus primarily on answering the question, “HOW is my Father speaking?”

Though, if you don’t currently own a copy of Love Speaks: 21 Ways to Recognize God’s Multi-Faceted Voice, or have not perhaps seen any of the documentary films by the same title, here are the 5 primary “Ways” (contained within all 21) that you can learn HOW the Father Himself is continually speaking.

NOTE: you will notice that Way #6, Creation & Nature, has been featured more strongly in this ebook through both my own personal testimony in the Introduction, and the story of Howell Harris from The Great Awakening. This is one of the simplest ways to begin to hear from the Father, so I highlighted it in this writing for you.

Talk a walk today with God in nature. Expect Him to speak!

Way #6: Father Speaks Through All of Creation & Nature

Way #7: Providential Outward Signs & Circumstances

Way #13: Divine Appointments from the Father

Way #14: Father Speaks Through All Forms of Media & Culture

Way #21: The Audible Voice of the Father

I encourage you to enjoy the full teaching book, or watch the film series to learn more!

More info here: <http://www.borntoblaze.com>

NOTE: I have included the Quick Reference Guide, with all 21 “Ways” and a Scripture for each, as the Appendix to this book, as a FREE gift.

Refer to this Guide often (and perhaps consider a self-guided Bible Study with each and every Scripture verse in the Guide).

This will help you recognize many new and various “Ways” that the Trinity is reaching out to you.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

I was raised as a, “good Lutheran boy.” I even preached my first message from a Lutheran pulpit at the age of 17. It finally dawned on me one day, a few years later, that instead of just following Luther’s teachings I needed more: I needed to follow Christ Himself!

So at the age of 20, one night during my senior year of college, I repented of my sins and gave my heart and my life to Jesus Christ.

I remember the very morning after I made that commitment in prayer. I was walking to class and suddenly it seemed my entire world was alive in new ways! Everything seemed brighter, more colorful, more vibrant and ALIVE. The Father Himself seemed to be shouting His love to me in all of His creation.

His Word became alive in me, too. I voraciously devoured the Gospel of John and soon after, the entire Bible. He has blessed me time and time again as I have followed Him, journeying into both the world of itinerant ministry and media.

When I prayed for a wife with the beauty of a princess, He brought a beautiful “Princess Bride” across my path and I fell in love with her. She is now my wife of many years. He also blessed us with three amazing children, two sons and a daughter.

Our household, marriage and family life, though not perfect, have been a fairy-tale come true for me.

My vision in equipping evangelism is to inspire passionate discipleship, and also help people of all backgrounds hear the voice of God more clearly and help equip people to share their faith in Jesus Christ. I travel extensively, bringing an inspirational preaching and teaching style to churches, seminars and conferences.

My vision in media includes being a producer of great documentary films. I even attended U.S.C. Film School for a summer in Los Angeles, California. I love to study history, and I love to bring history to life for people. I love relating stories of common believers of all times who had extraordinary faith and did great things for God.

In personality I could be described as an “outgoing introvert.” That means that I love to network and meet new people and learn all about them. It also means I love to retreat to private places to pray often in seclusion. I get re-charged by being alone (even though I enjoy being with people).

In my spare time I love to go fishing, play golf, watch movies, pray, sing and worship God, and do accents and imitations.

If you are ever wanting to “test” me, just shout out, “BRAVEHEART” or, “DO SHAKESPEARE.” I might just do a loud Scottish accent with the famous Braveheart speech, or even Shakespeare in an English accent.

In case you are wondering, my favorite Bible verse is John 10:10. I just love it. It is Jesus sharing this, “The thief comes only to steal, and kill, and destroy; I came that they might have LIFE, and might have it abundantly” (John 10:10).

I love this verse because the “thief” in context appears to be the “religious crowd” standing there. Religion, without relationship with Jesus, steals, kills and destroys. I experienced “religion” growing up, and once I found the LIFE that Jesus speaks of, it set me free. He came to set us all free and enjoy relationship!
